I thought the speaker did an excellent job of covering all bases of claims handling, without being mundane or speaking over everyone's head, etc. We had a really good turnout for this subject matter, moreso than I would have imagined. I was very pleasantly surprised and even though I've been handling claims and other risk management functions for 20+ yrs (now a one-person dept) there's always something to be learned, and this session was educational and engaging.
