Greetings from Mary Roth, RIMS CEO

The impact of the global pandemic continues to challenge businesses around the world. With greater uncertainty about business continuity plans, supply chains, cyber security, health & safety, political change and the overall financial resolve of their organizations, global business leaders have turned to their risk management leaders. With support from the Board of Directors and the C-Suite, risk professionals are well-positioned in organizations to navigate new threats, identify opportunities and influence strategic decisions.

RIMS India Forum offers industry partners an exceptional opportunity to engage these business decision influencers and share solutions that empower risk professionals to impact growth, embrace innovation and build strategies for stronger, more resilient organizations well into the future.
